

RULES FOR RENDERING THE SERVICE OF WIRE-FREE CONNECTION TO THE INTERNET (WiFi) IN THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Article 1

1. Only registered users (students and employees at UPJŠ) will be eligible for having the wire-free connection to the Internet (hereinafter WiFi) available. Prior to commencing their work, they shall present a valid User ID card and shall register in the Book of Visitors.
2. The users shall be obliged to observe the stipulations of the University Library Regulations and make use of the information sources in accordance with the legal regulations and morals standards in force.
3. No legal title bears to the above service and the University Library shall assume no responsibility for its eventual drop-out or poor quality, or for the damages that might be caused to the user as consequence of any such circumstances.
4. The University Library shall not be liable for any obligations that might arise to any third persons from the activities of the users of the WiFi service.

Article 2

1. The University Library shall not render any instruments or devices to the users for making use of the above service and shall not render any technical support to those users, who are making use of the service via their own instruments and devices brought along.
2. Making use of the WiFi service shall only be admissible in a University Library place intended for the purpose (i.e. at the desk).
3. The users, making use of the University Library on-line catalogues or information sources being in accordance with the specialisation of individual workplaces of the University Library, will enjoy the right of preference for using the wire-free connection to the Internet.
4. The information on technical parameters of the service shall only be available at the University Library and UPJŠ websites (<http://wifi.upjs.sk>).
