

Greetings from Marburg!

Today we would like to let you know that our program “MarburgOnline: VirtualExchange - MO:VE” will be offered again in the next semester (winter term, classes starting mid-October).

MO:VE is a great opportunity to take courses at Philipps-Universität Marburg and improve intercultural competences without the need to go abroad.

Participants can

- Take online-classes in various subjects
- Attend our virtual Orientation Program for international students
- Take online German language classes
- Get credits and a Transcript of Records
- Work with German and international students

MO:VE is free of charge for partner universities.

The program in a nutshell:

When?

October – February (4 months)

What’s it all about?

Subject courses from Marburg semester catalogue (in English or German), German Language Courses

Target audience

Students of all subjects (Fluency in German is no prerequisite for many courses; some classes are taught in English.)

Registration deadline:

September 19, 2023
