Department of Anatomy of Medical Faculty of PJŠ University in Košice under the auspices of the Slovak Anatomical Society and Slovak Medical Society organized a professional event The 27th Košice Morphological Day entitled: "The place of morphology in contemporary medicine" on May 23. -24, 2024. The president of the Slovak Anatomical Society, head of the Department of Anatomy UPJŠ LF and vice-dean for pedagogical activities prof. MUDr. Ingrid Hodorová, PhD. opened the scientific event. The event was supported by the vice-dean doc. MUDr. Silvia Timková, PhD. After the opening, a bouquet was handed over to the important life jubilee of a long-time worker and former head of Department of Anatomy prof. MUDr. Katarína Schmidtová, CSc. More than 50 participants attended the meeting, from the anatomy and histology departments of UPJŠ and UVLF, but also from other institutions, as well as young morphological supporters. Three lectures were given at the meeting, which introduced the scientific activity of the organizing department. The next day, the event continued with a practical part, an ultrasound seminar. On this occasion, the Collection of scientific papers with peer-reviewed valuable contributions from members of the Slovak Anatomical Society and other supporters of the morphological community was published.
