On behalf of the Royal Society of Medicine Student Section, we are pleased to invite abstract submissions for Tomorrow's Doctors 2025, our flagship international student-led conference.

This is an exciting opportunity for medical students worldwide to present their research virtually at one of the UK's most prestigious platforms for emerging talent in medicine. Abstract submissions are now open, offering students the chance to elevate their academic profile and strengthen their CVs through association with the Royal Society of Medicine.

 Theme: Innovation in Medicine

 Open to: All medical students (international submissions welcome)

 Word limit: Maximum 250 words

 Deadline: Sunday, 2 June 2025 at 23:59 BST

 Presentation format:

- All accepted abstracts will be displayed as virtual posters
- Top submissions will be highlighted in a showcase for broader recognition
-  Results announced: 9 June 2025

 Note: Accepted presenters must be registered for the conference (virtual attendance).

 Submit your abstract here:

We would be extremely grateful if you could share this opportunity with your medical students—particularly those involved in research or academic projects. Presenting at a Royal Society of Medicine conference is an excellent addition to any student's academic portfolio and provides valuable experience in scientific communication.

Should you have any questions or require promotional material, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Warm regards,

Jashan Selvakumar
